

Children's Burns Trust
CORPORATE SUPPORT PACK

Introduction

This information pack has been developed to help organisations and businesses to extend their charitable support to the Children's Burns Trust.

There are enormous benefits that can be gained from partnering with the Children's Burns Trust, as this kind of activity allows an organisation to demonstrate in their own way, individual corporate and social responsibilities.

There is so much more to supporting the Children's Burns Trust than just making a one off donation, and this document contains information that will help your organisation to tailor their support to the Children's Burns Trust in a manner that reflects your individual corporate activities, products, services and ethical perspectives.

So, it doesn't matter on the size of your organisation, there are endless ways to support!

I am personally and on behalf of The British Woodworking Federation, very proud to support the Children's Burns Trust. The benefits of partnering with CBT will extend into every facet of our members' businesses and our combined efforts to raise awareness and promote the Children's Burns Trust and the exceptional work that they do will make massively positive life changing impact to severely injured children.

David Oldfield
Board Member, British Woodworking Federation

Background Information

A burn injury is for life.

The scars are physical as well as psychological and can present life long challenges. It is our aim to make those challenges easier to bear and to help children and young people to grow up and lead as happy and healthy a life as possible.

Children's Burns Trust (CBT) is a national charity making a positive difference in three ways:

PREVENTION

Working with others to raise the awareness of burns and scalds including PREVENTION campaigns.

REHABILITATION

Working with NHS professionals to provide direct help and funding for REHABILITATION.

SUPPORT

Giving direct financial SUPPORT to families and hospitals and providing advice & access to burns related information.

I was badly burnt as a child, and dealing with what was just a simple, split second accident took a long time. I know the vital work that the Children's Burns Trust do with burns survivors and their families makes a profound difference.

Why Partnering with a Charity is Good for Business

Most consumers think businesses should support charities.

When faced with a choice between two companies that offered products and services for the same price,

82% said their decision would be affected by whether a company engaged with charities and its local community.

What 'Making a Difference' Really Costs

Caring for injuries and rehabilitating children, their siblings and families is very specialist, and equipment can be costly.

Children's Burns Trust receives no government funding and are only able to continue the work we do as a result of our own fundraising efforts. In addition to the income we generate from events and the support of various specialist trusts, we are heavily reliant on smaller donations.

	£100	Pays for travel expenses for a parent or carer to visit here child in a specialist burns unit
	£250	Pays for 10 children to have an afternoon bowling
	£500	Pays for a child to attend burn camp at an adventure activity centre
	£1,000	Pays for new play and exercise equipment for a burns ward
	£2,000	Pays for the production of 5000 copies of "Lizzie's Accident" books
	£5,000	Pays for a Family Therapy Weekend
	£11,000	Pays for a 4 day Jamboree for up to 40 children
